New Alcumus partnership supports WinSport's safety management system and summer camps program

Calgary, Alta. – WinSport is proud to announce a new partnership with Alcumus, which will provide WinSport with one of their solutions, eCompliance, a safety management solution, and will see Alcumus become a long-term supporting safety partner of the WinSport summer camps program.

Alcumus, a market leader in safety, helps create better workplaces to keep people safe, reduce risks, and simplify safety processes through its expert teams and technology.

“The health and safety of our guests and team members continues to be paramount to everything we do at WinSport,” says WinSport President and CEO Barry Heck. “We are pleased to work with Alcumus to ensure our commitment to safety and help to streamline the administrative process for health and safety compliance.”

The new eCompliance solution is currently being rolled out across the organization, which coincides with the launch of WinSport's summer camp program. Camps kicked off this past Monday and have been part of the Calgary summer camp landscape for more than two decades. Nearly 5,000 children participate in WinSport's summer camps annually.

WinSport will be utilizing the eCompliance solution year-round to report on-site hazards, zone inspections, incident investigations for employees and guests, and employee training tracking, all of which is proactively managed with their robust safety reporting solution, Safety Intelligence.

“I am honoured to announce that Alcumus has partnered with WinSport, an organization that puts the health and safety of its visitors and its team as its highest priority. Our mission at Alcumus is to protect five million workers from workplace incidents by 2025 and this aligns with the goals and overarching mission of WinSport.” says Tyler Davey, CEO, Alcumus – North America. “This partnership is focused on powering the team at WinSport to keep all those who step foot on their facilities safe, every single day. We look forward to nurturing this partnership with WinSport and keeping guests and team members safe with our technology solution.”
